Club's plea to keep its 2012 olympic dream alive

LACKLUSTRE facilities could hold back Northampton's athletes from making the 2012 Olympics in London.

The Rugby and Northampton Athletics Club (RNAC) is one of the largest and most successful in the east midlands, but lacks the amenities to hold its own competitions.

Northampton Town, who rent the ground to RNAC, is looking to redevelop the area to raise money to develop Sixfields stadium. This plan would see RNAC relocated.

A spokesman from the RNAC said: "The football club want to build on the ground to raise money for the stadium.

"The facilities are dire, but to bring them up to the right level would probably cost around £60,000."

There are many future stars of athletics at the club, including Thembo Luhana, pictured above, who is currently ranked number one in the country for U17s 100m hurdles.

Tony Clarke, a director at Northampton Town Football Club said: "We agree that Northampton desperately needs a new athletics track. There are possible sites outside of Sixfields, and we hope that in any redevelopment new facilities can be secured.

"We're working very hard to try and find that solution."

Axe looms over speed cameras

BY TOBY LOCK
toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

SPEED cameras across the county could be torn down as part of measures to improve road safety.

Northamptonshire County Council's Cabinet will meet next week to discuss whether a new strategy for infrastructure improvements could spell the end of fixed speed cameras.

The report, which will be presented to members on Tuesday November 10, recommends that the strategy should include the 'removal of fixed site cameras at the beginning of 2010/11.'

The report states: 'Changing road users' behaviour will be essential to maintain progress. This means using education, training and publicity and enforcement more effectively. The focus must shift from making roads safer, to making people use them more safely.

'With regards to the use of safety cameras, the requirements regarding how and when cameras are used has altered since the last fixed site camera was installed in Northamptonshire in 2005 and therefore it is proposed that as part of the review clear guidance and direction will be provided on the use of any new fixed site cameras.

'This will ensure that fixed site safety cameras are judged on their merits in terms of preventing collisions and that they are only used as a last resort and when other engineering interventions are inappropriate.

'For existing safety cameras, the strategy will include for an annual report to be produced accounting for the use of each safety camera and cameras will be removed in preference of alternative measures for managing traffic speeds such as vehicle activated signs where appropriate.'

A report will be prepared by February 2010 to allow time before the new financial year to decide upon the matter.

Care home plans in the spotlight

BY TOBY LOCK
toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

FOUR dementia centres and care housing could be built as residential care comes under the microscope next week.

A report outlining the latest step in Northamptonshire County Council's review of its ten remaining residential care homes will be discussed by cabinet on Tuesday, November 10.

If the report is agreed in principle by cabinet members, the county is set to benefit from four new specialist dementia care centres as well as extra care housing for older people on two of Northampton's former school sites. The report also recommends that four care homes are closed over the next three years.

Earlier this year, consultation opened to look at the future of the ten remaining residential care homes owned by the county council and to explore how they can best contribute to improving the quality of older people's care in Northamptonshire.

Cllr Robin Brown, cabinet member for health and adult social services said: "This forms an integral part of our strategy for transforming accommodation-based care for older people in Northamptonshire.

"A great deal of work has taken place to look at the future of these ten care homes and I have personally visited each one to speak to staff, residents and families so that I have a clear understanding about the issues and challenges we are facing.

"New plans are being put forward for the care homes, which I believe will best enable us as a council to improve the quality of older people's accommodation in the county for the future, giving people the quality of residential care and the facilities they both need and deserve.

"This isn't a one size fits all solution. Our plans cover a broad range of proposals for the care homes, including redeveloping those buildings which can be improved to provide dementia care and closing those which are no longer fit for purpose and can't be adapted.

"Part of our plans also include proposals to use two former school sites in Northampton to develop extra care housing, as well as exploring the benefits of creating a new local authority trading company to manage some of the care homes in a new way."

Cllr David Mackintosh has welcomed the news that Ecton Brook House could be redeveloped to provide dementia care in his ward.

He said: "One of the first visits I made when I was elected earlier this year was to Ecton Brook House to see at first-hand the care provided by the staff there.

"My own grandmother suffered from dementia before she sadly died last year so I know only too well the pressures which dementia places on a family.

"I am pleased that Northamptonshire will soon have high-quality dementia care services and that Ecton Brook House will be one of the centres to provide this."

At this stage, the cabinet is being asked to make a decision in principle. If it is agreed, further work will take place to carry out risk assessments for each site, the results of which will be subject to a cabinet member decision early next year.

Bid to get youngsters more interested in sport

A MULTI-million pound sports initiative is beginning in Northampton next weekend.

Sport Unlimited is a £36 million national programme from Sport England, holding eight to ten week courses for people aged seven to 19.

An eight week golfing course being held at Brampton Heath Golf Club has been reduced to £16 and is aimed at seven to nine-years-olds.

Designed at getting more children and young people taking part in sports within the community, other activities include basketball, badminton, cheerleading and street dancing.

Sport Unlimited is delivered by Northampton Borough Council's sports development team, Northamptonshire Sport, School Sports Partnership, Sport 4 Youth, Northampton Active and Sport England.

For more information, visit www.sportunlimitednorthampton.co.uk or call 01604 837774 or email info@sportunlimitednorthampton.co.uk to book.

Survey on town centre gets low response

JUST 230 responses were returned regarding key changes to Northampton town centre.

Consultation for the Centre Area Action Plan (CAAP) took place between August and September this year, with exhibitions taking place in the Market Square, Weston Favell Shopping Centre and Kingsthorpe Library.

In total, around 5,000 leaflets were distributed.

In a report to Northampton Borough Council cabinet last night, members heard that some exhibitions were held in association with those by the Joint Planning Unit for the controversial Joint Core Strategy and may have led to views on the CAAP being submitted under the other consultation.

The report said: 'There may be a large number of responses made to the Joint Core Strategy consultation that raises issues related to the Central Area; this will become more apparent as consultation responses are processed by the West Northamptonshire Joint Planning Unit.

'Depending on the amount of time it takes the Joint Planning Unit to complete the processing of their responses, there may be the opportunity for responses related to the Central Area to be used by the Council to inform the Area Action Plan.'

Of the 230 responses, 78 per cent strongly agreed or agreed with the overall emerging plan.

The report said: 'Certainly the general impression gained from feedback at the exhibitions is that there is very much a need for the Area Action Plan and that it is moving in the right direction.'

Let there be light - to brighten up market

THE Market Square could be lit up to boost the evening economy and encourage people to spend time there.

Last night, Northampton Borough Council's cabinet recommended a lighting scheme to showcase the Square.

In September, lights were adorned to buildings surrounding the market to give an idea of how it might look.

Members of the cabinet were expected to recommend a full application to WND for £250,000 of funding.

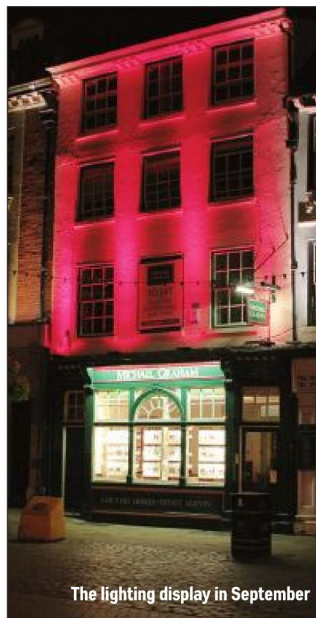

Cllr Richard Church, cabinet member for regeneration, said: "With the nights drawing in, this is a suitable time to look at how the market square could be truly inviting and impressive, even on the darkest of evenings. Northampton Borough Council is dedicated to making the most of its beautiful, historic buildings.

"It was spectacular to see the southern side of the Market Square illuminated by state-of-the-art white and colour change LED lighting - the historical architecture looked wonderful.

"Not only would it transform our Market Square in the evenings, using modern technologies would use less power than the current lamps and bring environmental benefits - it is extraordinary how we could make a dramatic difference to the town centre and cut energy bills."

The concept of lighting the Market Square is a 'natural extension' of the wider Market Square project, which includes creating flexible events space and gateway with a seven-jet fountain, new paving and seating.

GP deal for circuit moves step closer

BY TOBY LOCK

toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

A DEAL to seal the British Grand Prix at Silverstone is very close according to the BRDC.

Damon Hill, 1996 F1 World Champion and chairman of the British Racing Drivers' Club (BRDC), is confident that Silverstone is closer to securing a deal for the future of the British Grand Prix.

The event's fate is currently in limbo after Donington Park failed to meet a final deadline last week.

At the final race of the season in Abu Dhabi, F1 boss Bernie Ecclestone confirmed that Donington would definitely not hold the event next year.

With the Leicestershire track now out of the running, Silverstone is the only possible venue of the race next July, should it remain in this country.

Mr Hill said: "We are very close. It comes down to a little bit of give on the negotiation and I think we're there."

"There was a lot of excitement when the opportunity came back and Bernie said he was prepared to discuss the situation."

"We did go over to Abu Dhabi to try and get a deal done, but the distraction of the weekend meant it was not the right time."

"We'll let the dust settle and see what happens over the next week or so."

"There is an argument in the UK for it standing up on its own merits as a commercial operation and if it does that, Silverstone can only pay so much."

"But we also have to look at its value to the UK and how much would you pay to keep it there."

"There is a place in F1 for historic tracks. Next year will be 60 years since the start of F1 and it started in Silverstone."

"Events that have shown loyalty and allegiance to F1 and have been there through thick and thin are important."

Richard Phillips, managing director of Silverstone Holdings, operators of the venue, stressed that every effort is being made to secure the future of the event.

He said: "We are doing everything we can to get the Grand Prix."

"It has been non-stop. We're getting a lot closer and we are hopeful. We have to try to secure this for the UK."

Mr Phillips also added that the 17 year deal which had been written out for Donington would suit Silverstone far better than recent contracts.

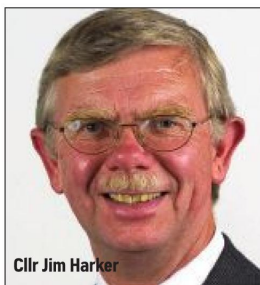

Mr Phillips said: "These five year deals we've had in the past are no good. We need a longer term deal - that is key to securing the investment we need in the circuit. We're not there yet but we're optimistic we will be."

There are other options instead of one council

WORKING in partnership would be a more beneficial way of operating, rather than a single unitary council for Northampton.

This is the view of Northamptonshire County Council leader, Cllr Jim Harker, who believes that there are more advantages for the town in working together with the borough council.

Last week, borough councillors agreed a motion put forward by leader of the Labour group, Cllr Keith Davies, that like Luton, Bedford and Milton

Cllr Jim Harker

Keynes, a unitary council should reside over the town.

Cllr Harker said: "I think there are obviously some advantages, financial ones. It might help bringing all the services under one big umbrella, but there are so many opportunities to work together in partnership."

"There are many big organisations in Northamptonshire that we work very successfully with."

"Northampton is a significant part of the county, nearly a third of it. We can still pool our resources and come up with joint resources for the best of the town, but still remain as separate entities."

Letters to the Editor:

Don't miss our festive special

MAKE sure you pick up your copy of next week's Herald & Post for all you need to know about Christmas.

Our festive supplement will be bringing you a whole host of information, from gifts to recipes and quiz fun. Don't miss it!

Let's start making plans now for our town to be run by unitary authority

I WAS really pleased to see Cllr Keith Davies' motion on a Unitary Authority passed (H&P front page October 29).

Our county stretches nearly 90 miles from north-east to south-west.

It is quite rural in these extremities while Northampton is a large and growing town with very different needs.

It makes sense to have a one-stop council: it will also prevent any lazy councillor illicitly passing the buck or a resident just going to any councillor, NBC or NCC.

It would also simplify things if we could reduce ward sizes, so that they can be represented by a single councillor.

The two main objections are the size of Northampton and the inexperience of the current administration.

We suffered last time because the Government insisted we retain the existing borders and I agree the present borough is not large enough.

Clearly areas like Grange Park should be annexed and, as in the case of MK, also hinterland towns and villages, like Brixworth and Boughton.

This will actually be better protection for these places, as they can be seen as surrounding green belt.

Daventry district likes to do its development right on its outskirts, which also happen to be those of Northampton town.

I know this will cause anxiety in, say, Moulton, but grabbing a wide area will enable it to be included in its village context, rather than suddenly being stuck on to the Northampton town administration.

It would be foolhardy to introduce this unitary overnight.

It might well be best to work to 2013 when the County Council will need re-election.

This will give sufficient time to work to a smooth transition.

Why England should re-gain its power

I REFER to David Larkman's letter of October 29.

Well done David. Very many of us 'English' would like to see the return of England to be governed by the English.

Firstly to opt out of the EU, as we are not Europeans, which would save a great amount of money and if England just looked after itself we would be able to afford to get our national debt down and eventually return to a proper well run country.

I was born in England and my family reside in England and I am 'English'.

On many documents nationality is now never given as English just British, or Scottish or Welsh.

In these cases I normally cross out British and insert English.

Let children go to their chosen school

IN regards to your article 'Parents face jail in school places row' (October 22), I have to write that the headmaster of Caroline Chisholm School has got no objection at all.

It is only the LEA officer who is refusing all the time, since March 2009.

All children studied their primary education at Wootton Primary School. Also, they have been living in Wootton for more than ten years, it is their right to get admission into CCS.

Some parents gave wrong addresses stating that they are living in the Wootton area.

Those who gave wrong addresses only to get admission in CCS have now moved.

I wish that one day the parents will succeed.

Please LEA officer change your mind and give permission to get admission into CCS.

Green light given to build new homeless shelter

A NEW homeless shelter has been given the go-ahead to be built in Northampton.

The new £5.5million scheme from WNDC will see the current homeless provision at Acorn House and daytime drop-in facilities at the Hope Centre combined into a multi-functional site based on Maple Street in the town centre.

Stephen Philpott, Places of Change programme manager at Midland Heart, said: "We are delighted that planning has been granted for the new centre in a location which is already helping individuals who are in need of supported housing. The new multi-million pound centre will not only deliver essential living accommodation, but will provide individuals with access to developing life skills, counselling, education training and on and off-site mainstream health services, along with opportunities to integrate and work with the community."

Cllr Sally Beardsworth, Northampton Borough Council's cabinet member for housing, added: "The town urgently needs new accommodation for homeless people if we are to help them back on their feet and rebuild their lives.

"This scheme revolutionises accommodation for the homeless. It offers a motivating, engaging environment as well as structured support to increase people's independence so they can make a fresh start."

The new centre will see the existing buildings currently providing support for the homeless on Maple Street demolished. It is anticipated that work on the new centre will begin early 2010.

Duston's on board and back en route

BY TOBY LOCK

tobylock@northyants.co.uk

A BUS route has returned to service after residents were left cut off.

Cllr Matt Golby has worked with New Duston Parish Council and Northamptonshire County Council to set up a replacement for the old number 27 service that was cancelled in January, isolating residents.

The new route has been funded by a donation from Cllr Golby's NCC Empowering Councillors Fund, and through a contribution from the parish council.

The new limited service (known as G1) started at 10.30am on Wednesday and will run every Wednesday and Saturday.

The route will run until autumn 2010 when many of the bus services in West Northampton will be reviewed again.

Cllr Golby said: "I am very happy that we have managed to get this route back so that residents have easier access to vital services, and I would encourage people to use the new route as any future improvements will depend on the success of this new service."

The bus will arrive at the Sandy Lane end of Weggs Farm road at 10.30am and 11.30am on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The bus will drive the length of Weggs Farm Road and then onto Wrenbury Road turning into Ryeland Road and then Berrywood Road.

At the mini roundabout it will turn right into Main Road heading through the village and on into town.

The bus will not go to the bus station but will stop at the D7 stop outside Nat West Bank on the Drapery before making the return leg following the same route in reverse.

Three services will leave for Duston from the Drapery stop at 10.50am, 12.30pm and 1.15pm.

As Wrenbury Road and Ryeland Road do not have bus stops, users will be able to hail-and-ride at a convenient place on the road.

Residents invited to have their say

THE mobile police station was rolled out in Northampton this week as part of 'Say So.'

People from Delapre, Briar Hill, Far

Cotton and Camp Hill were invited to speak up about what improvements are needed in their area. Residents had the chance to talk to councillors, police officers and council officers about future crime prevention work, highways projects, housing and activities for young people. The event was designed for people in the area to help establish the next set of neighbourhood priorities.

Officer works to retrieve deleted items from crash victim's laptop

POLICE have recovered items that were wiped from A45 crash victim Sophie Bywaters' laptop.

Officers have managed to recover all documents, photographs and music from the laptop owned by Sophie, 13, from East Hunsbury who died in a collision on October 13. Two people were arrested following the theft of the laptop from Sophie's family home during a car key burglary later that month. The laptop was later recovered and an officer from the force's High-Tech Crime Unit has managed to restore the deleted items. A spokesman said: "The theft of the laptop caused extreme distress to Sophie's family and this was in no way alleviated when the laptop was recovered, only to discover it had been wiped. An officer worked over the weekend in a dedicated attempt to retrieve the items that are so precious to Sophie's family and we are really pleased to say that this was successful."

Consultation underway on proposals for new academy

BY TOBY LOCK

tobylock@hpnorthants.co.uk

PLANS to turn Northampton Unity College into an academy began this week.

Education chiefs at the county council launched the consultation period on Monday to decide on the future of the school, which is currently in special measures and operating under the management of an interim executive board.

Cabinet member for children and young people, Cllr Andrew Grant, said: "The driving force behind the proposal to secure academy status for Unity College is our complete commitment to raising standards in this school.

"The school's performance issues have been well documented and clearly too many of its students are leaving school without an acceptable standard of education.

"We believe that the proposal to close Unity College in its current form and re-open as an academy led by the David Ross Foundation will result in far-reaching and sustainable improvement.

"I would urge the wider school community to take the opportunity to get involved in the discussions and meetings that have been arranged."

In April, the council's cabinet called a halt to the original academy proposals because of a lack of support among staff, parents and the wider community for the sponsorship arrangements, a consortium made up of the county council, the Diocese of Peterborough, Bishop Stopford School and Moulton College.

The cabinet decided to continue to pursue academy status but with a different sponsor. Academies have the freedom to work differently to other state schools and are run by a sponsor organisation which makes decisions about the vision, ethos, structure and curriculum of the academy. They are free of charge to students, open to students of all abilities and are accountable to central government for their standards.

The consultation will include a drop-in day on Wednesday,

November 11 at the school where staff, students, and parents can find out more and talk to representative of the council and the David Ross Foundation. In addition, there will be meetings taking place on Tuesday, November 17 at 7pm.

The consultation runs until Friday, November 27.

The council's cabinet is due to consider the outcome of the consultation on Tuesday, December 8.

Police backing

CONFIDENCE in the police force has increased again for the third straight review.

Residents of Northamptonshire, questioned through the British Crime Survey, voted in favour of the police in the county.

Of the people questioned, 46 per cent chose to 'strongly agree' or 'tend to agree' when asked whether police were dealing with anti-social behaviour and crime in their area.

This is a six per cent increase from June 2008, and a two per cent increase from the previous quarter.

The improvements follow work undertaken by the force to educate staff on the confidence programme and what that means for those delivering the service as well as the launch of the 'Bright Idea' scheme in order to allow staff to put forward ideas on how confidence in the police can be improved.

In the pink to help charity

A USED car dealership went pink last Friday to raise money for Breast Cancer Campaign.

Friday, October 30 marked 'Wear it Pink' day for staff at The Car Shop. Between them, the donations amounted to £500 for the charity.

Chris Delaney, operations manager for The Car Shop Northampton said: "We are delighted to have raised such a respectable amount for Breast Cancer Campaign, and I am extremely proud of my team for fully getting behind and supporting this worthwhile cause.

"I have personally been affected by the illness and cannot praise my team enough, as I know their efforts will contribute to saving many lives.

"At The Car Shop we like to do as much as possible for our community and national charities because at the end of the day we are more than just a used car retailer, we are a business that cares."

New book unearths the history of Spratton

SPRATTON Local History Society is hosting an exhibition to mark the launch of its new book.

More than 400 images will be on display, the majority not previously exhibited, including a huge selection of pictures of people from the late 19th century to date.

The Church of England Primary School will be extensively featured and there will be a supporting display to accompany the society's new book, A Farming History of Spratton 1766-1914.

With farmers' land interests and uses updated to 2009 this original piece of historical research, by Michael Heaton, includes 72 pages as well as 60 maps and photographs.

It starts with the Enclosure Award of 1766 mapped by the author for the very first time for Spratton.

It shows who-owned-what in and around the village in farming terms over the last 250 years.

Economic and weather fluctuations as well as rents and corn prices have also been charted and relationships between the various farming families identified.

Even the odd scandal has surfaced.

The exhibition will be held on Sunday, November 15 at Spratton Village Hall, School Road, Spratton from 10am to 5pm.

Admission is £2 but children go free.

Refreshments will be available throughout the day.

The book costs £4 and is available from the Society's website www.sprattonhistory.org

Backing given to SWAN Partnership

BY TOBY LOCK

toby.lock@hpnorthants.co.uk

AN award-winning project aimed at addressing the poor health issues faced by street sex workers received a visit from the Shadow Minister for Women.

Theresa May MP, who is also Shadow Minister for Work and Pensions visited the Sex Workers Around Northamptonshire (SWAN) Partnership on Friday, October 30. She was accompanied by Michael Ellis, parliamentary candidate for Northampton North, and Brian Binley MP for Northampton South.

The SWAN Partnership was established in 2003 to help reduce the problems caused by prostitution within the area, and to address the poor health issues faced by its street sex workers.

In 2003 the majority of SWAN's target clients were in violent relationships, few had any secure housing and nearly all had extremely high substance misuse issues, and very few accessed even basic primary care.

Today, all figures for the current financial year show ongoing improvements in service, with an estimated 90 per cent of street sex workers accessing a GP and 70 per cent in drug treatment.

In addition, SWAN has also begun to be more active with non-drug using, off street sex workers, often a more hidden client group.

Samantha Benfield, SWAN partnership manager, said: "We were very pleased to welcome the visit from the Shadow Minister for Women because we are always pleased to raise the profile of this essential service.

"Health is extremely important, and our clients can often be overlooked in the face of other pressing issues such as crime, housing or drugs, but access to appropriate primary, mental and sexual health care should be a given for any member of our society."

Kate Page, chairwoman of Northamptonshire Provider Services, said: "The SWAN partnership has made a huge difference in the lives of so many women and we are very proud to be able to demonstrate the good work that this project has achieved so far."

Mrs May said: "What SWAN has done is to enable people to stabilise their life and get their foot upon the ladder of the everyday life that we all take for granted."

Mr Ellis said: "SWAN has really made an impact on crime and disorder on the streets but particularly for the women involved."

Home-Start is on the search for volunteers

HOME-START has moved into its new Towcester base.

Since 1996, the charity has been working from Daventry, but has now settled in at Victoria House in Towcester.

Home-Start Daventry and South Northants is a voluntary organisation which offers support, friendship and practical help to parents with young children who are experiencing difficult or stressful situations. Staff and trustees believe this is a very positive move for the scheme as the new office is ideally located centrally to the two districts it serves.

If you are a parent, grandparent or have parenting experience with two to three hours to spare each week and would like to know more about becoming a Home-Start volunteer, call Carol or Sue on 01327 353139.

WNDC takes another look at its strategy

MORE planning transparency will help West Northamptonshire Development Corporation as it looks to continue plans to expand Northampton.

WNDC is undertaking a review of its Planning Obligations Strategy (POS).

Designed to add clarity, certainty and transparency to the development process, WNDC's POS was adopted by the corporation in December 2008.

It introduced a Standard Charge Regime for the collection of developer contributions to infrastructure across WNDC's Urban Development Area in Northampton, Daventry and Towcester.

In the light of several issues, including the current economic climate and the anticipated introduction of the Community Infrastructure Levy, WNDC has recognised the need to refresh the strategy.

This process will include of a review of relevant background information, and two rounds of public consultation.

The initial round of consultation has started, and comments are invited by Monday, November 16. The review is expected to be completed by March 2010.

WNDC chief executive Peter Mawson said: "WNDC recognises the difficulties presented by the challenging economic climate and acknowledges the role that infrastructure plays in the creation of sustainable communities."

"Since being established, WNDC has secured over £30m in developer contributions to infrastructure. Finance of this nature will play a crucial role in the development of well connected, healthy and cohesive communities."

"However, we have to take account of planning policy developments at a national level and ensure that we maintain an effective balance between the capabilities of developers and the needs of new communities."

Bid to sort issues in your neighbourhood

BY TOBY LOCK

tobylock@hpnorthants.co.uk

ANTI-social behaviour has been told 'not in my neighbourhood' this week.

Monday, November 2 kicked off 'Not in my Neighbourhood Week' - a Home Office initiative that Northampton Borough Council is championing to show the work being done to address anti-social behaviour and crime in the town.

Northampton is already one of the cleanest places in England according to Government inspectors and is becoming safer, with a drop in anti-social behaviour of almost 17 per cent since April last year according to a survey by Compass.

Not in my Neighbourhood Week highlights how the council is working with the police and probation service as well as other agencies and residents to keep it that way.

Cllr Paul Varnsberry, cabinet member for community safety, said: "We want people to feel happy and safe in their neighbourhood. We want them to get involved in making the changes they think will improve their communities."

"The way in which residents can

It is important people tell us what is concerning them so we can continue to focus our efforts on tackling these issues and give a real sense of pride in Northampton

- Cllr Paul Varnsberry, pictured cerns and ideas to the attention of the council and the police.

"It is important people tell us what is concerning them so we can continue to focus our efforts on tackling these issues and give a real sense of pride in Northampton."

Jerry Dennis, Neighbourhood Watch coordination for Kendal Close, said: "Not in my Neighbourhood Week is all about 'community' and I cannot conceive of a better example than Kendal Close of bringing all sections of the community together in order to make a positive difference and create a meaningful impact on community life."

"On behalf of the residents of Kendal Close, well done to all who have enabled this to come a reality."

To find out what is being done in your area or raise a concern call Northampton Borough Council's environmental wardens on 01604 653083.

Electoral roll call

THOSE not on the electoral roll can expect a call from the council this week.

Starting this weekend, those people who have not returned their voting registration form to Northampton Borough Council will be visited by canvassers to ask residents to confirm information about who lives at the property, their nationality and also to acquire a signature.

In the borough of Northampton there are 95,000 properties, which the council must confirm occupants for in order to make up the electoral register.

Although no elections are currently scheduled, a general election must be held by June 2010 and could be called at any time.

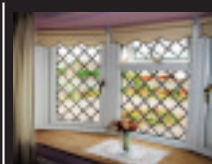

People not on the electoral register lose out on their right to have their say in a general election or any other vote.

So far, 69,615 (73.7 per cent) of all properties have confirmed occupancy details by returning their registration form through the post (47,440), on the automated telephone system (11,242) or via the internet (11,933).

Telephone and online registrations have increased slightly and postal returns are down by 4,000 on last year but this is considered to have been affected by the postal strikes.

A spokesman for Northampton Borough Council said: "Canvassers will be out from this weekend until the third week in November. They will be calling on the 25,000 properties that have not returned either the original form or the reminders sent out at the beginning of October."

"It is hoped people will assist the canvassers with correct information and a signature so that they have the right to any vote called by local or central Government."

Add a taste of Italy to Christmas celebrations

BY TOBY LOCK

toby.lock@npnorthants.co.uk

A BREATH of Mediterranean sunshine will be sweeping across the Market Square this weekend.

On Friday and Saturday, Northampton Borough Council welcome back Italian traders with their tasty treats.

Perfect for your Christmas pantry or authentic Italian presents, brighten up your Autumn with some Mediterranean food and drink.

Stalls include pasticceria (bakeries) selling many types of pane (bread) like focaccia and ciabatta as well as biscotti (biscuits), torte della frutta (fruit tarts) and dolci Italiani (Italian sweets). Olive miste (mixed olives), vino (wine), formaggio (cheese), olio d'oliva (olive oil) and aceto balsamico (balsamic vinegar) will also be among the Italian produce on sale.

It's not all food and drink though, one special stall visiting Northampton will be selling stone jewellery and glassware all the way from Murano, the small island just outside Venezia (Venice), which has been a glassmakers paradise since 1291.

Cllr Richard Church, cabinet member for planning and regeneration at the borough council, said: "I'm delighted to say welcome, or 'benvenuto', to the wonderful Italian market again and also just three weeks before we say 'willkommen' to the special German market."

"Northampton has really warmed to the previous continental traders and I'm sure this Autumn won't be any different."

"It's great timing for buying for Christmas and the Italians always like to put a smile on people's faces with an array of tasty food and drink."

Organiser, Francesco Accurso, from L'Assaggio Italiano Ltd, added: "We really hope people from all over Northampton come and visit us and the lovely food and drink we will have with us on the Italian Market."

007's girl helps fundraiser

A BOND girl will be bringing the golden touch to a ladies' day set to raise funds for Marie Curie Cancer Care.

The main speaker will be Shirley Eaton, whose career hit international status when she played Jill Masterson in Goldfinger.

And like many Bond girls her character paid for her romantic clinches with 007, in this film played by Sean Connery, with her 24-Carat gold death scene which became the eye catching draw for the film.

The event will be an opportunity to hear fascinating speakers including a Marie Curie Nurse and romantic novelist Danielle Shaw, enjoy coffee, lunch and afternoon tea and a fashion show as well as stalls where guests can buy jewellery, accessories and gifts.

Community fundraiser Lorraine Tester said: "I am delighted that we can offer this lovely Ladies' Day with golden girl, Shirley Eaton in the Lime Trees Hotel."

"I know it will be both stimulating and enjoyable for everyone."

"The money raised at the event will be used to fund Marie Curie Cancer Care nurses in the community who give high quality care totally free of charge to give terminally ill people the choice of dying at home supported by their families."

It will be held on Thursday, November 19 at the Lime Trees Hotel in Barrack Road, Northampton.

Tickets are £25 from the fundraising office on 01604 442312, with all proceeds donated to Marie Curie Cancer Care.

Appeal made for witnesses to get in touch

WITNESSES have been urged to come forward in connection with an assault that took place in Northampton earlier this year.

Police have re-appealed for information after a 38-year-old woman was assaulted by four women in Angel Street on Friday, August 14 after an earlier altercation outside Quench nightclub.

CCTV footage shows three people, a man and two women, looking along Angel Street, at the Bridge Street end, at the time of the incident - about 1.50am.

Police would like to speak to these people as soon as possible as potential witnesses.

One of the women is dressed in black trousers and a black top and has brown hair, while the other woman is wearing camouflage style trousers and a black sleeveless top. She also has brown hair that is tied up in a ponytail.

The man is wearing dark coloured trousers, a light blue shirt and has short, dark brown hair.

Four women have been arrested in connection with the incident and bailed pending further enquiries.

Anyone with information is asked to contact police on 03000 111 222 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Facebook is new tool in crime fight

BY TOBY LOCK

tobylock@hpnorthants.co.uk

POLICE are turning to Facebook to learn more about anti-social behaviour.

Northamptonshire's force have opened a discussion group on the social networking site to learn more about the concerns that young people have about anti-social behaviour.

Incidents of anti-social behaviour have fallen markedly during the last couple of years but residents believe that more could still be done by police and partners to tackle the problem.

Inspector Steve Lingley, sector commander for the Safer Community Teams in south-west Northampton, said: "We have been working with the Police Authority with a view to getting some live dialogue opened up on social media sites like Facebook."

"We have launched the discussion group on Facebook to mark 'Not In My Neighbourhood Week' and open up the issue of anti-social behaviour to new audiences. What are the things that concern you about anti-social behaviour in your community? Are the police doing enough to address your concerns?"

"I am aware that we have traditional ways of consulting with people in this county but we do miss a large chunk of people who would not ordinarily think of attending organised meetings or visiting the police."

"Young people and those who are housebound rely on social networking sites to communicate and computers are increasingly becoming more and more important in people's lives."

"We need to take views and communicate our successes to as wide an audience as possible if people are to gain confidence in the work that we do."

Northamptonshire Police now has 200 fans on Facebook and you can join in the anti-social behaviour debate by visiting www.facebook.com/northantspolice

Let's talk business and get started up

BY TOBY LOCK

tobylock@hpnorthants.co.uk

HAVE you ever thought about what it would be like to start a business and be your own boss?

On Tuesday, November 17 the Guildhall is hosting an event to help new businesses.

The 'Let's Talk Starting in Business' seminar will be open to anyone interested in starting a new business.

The evening seminar has been organised by Northampton Borough Council and Barclays Bank to mark National Enterprise Week.

Business expert Tom Edge, pictured, will be leading the evening, offering his expertise and giving practical advice to anyone interested in starting a new business.

The evening will cover everything from drafting your first business plan through to managing finance and building your reputation. Mr Edge said: "If you ever considered starting your own small business or want to be more successful in your existing business then this is for you. Many people can't find a job so I show them how to create their own job."

"I've spoken to many delegates who have since started working for themselves and are happier and making a lot more money."

Cllr Richard Church, Northampton Borough Council cabinet member for regeneration said: "Northampton is ideally located for new businesses. We have excellent transport links, a university and a growing population."

"However, starting a new business can be a daunting prospect, so come along to this event and take advantage of this opportunity to learn from someone who has helped thousands of businesses."

The event is in partnership with Tom Edge, NFEA, Northampton Borough Council, Business Link, Job Centre Plus and Northamptonshire Enterprise Limited.

Booking your free place in advance is essential, call 0845 300 2098.

OUR KNOWLEDGE & BUYING POWER SAVES YOU £££'s

Keep your car safe in winter

AS the winter months fast approach and the darker nights draw in, police are reminding people to secure their cars.

Opportunist thieves can make the most of items left on show in cars and the darker nights and so motorists are being advised to stop and think when they park up and leave their car.

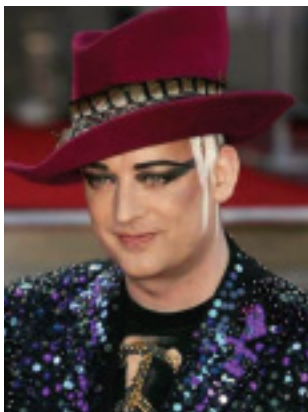

If an item is on show, it can be tempting for people to break into your vehicle in order to steal it.

Crime Prevention Officer Kate Wright, said: "Our message is clear: do not leave valuables in your vehicle, ensure it is locked, and if it has an alarm, use it.

"Similarly, if you have a garage, please use it.

"Whenever you park your car, whether it be in a public street or on your driveway, it is always worth taking a few seconds to remove items that are on show. It is also worth bearing in mind that even if you remove a Sat Nav from your car then a mark may have been left on the windscreen, so it is always advisable to remove any marks left behind.

"It is easy to fall into the habit of not parking your car in your garage, or not using a steering lock or the alarm system, but these quick and simple steps could be the difference in you becoming a victim of vehicle crime or not. If you do need to park your car in a public place and leave it unattended, make sure you park in a secure, well lit and busy area."

Boy George set for Chicago date

The singer, who found fame with Culture Club in the 80s and whose hits included Do You Really Want to Hurt Me?, will be taking to the stage on Friday, November 20.

Check out next week's H&P for a competition to win tickets to see him.

Let the experts find hidden treasures

ARE you looking for a unique present for someone this Christmas?

Antiques2Go to organise the event. Alongside the many stalls, auctioneer Jonathan Humbert will be attending with his double-decker antiques bus ready to value any items the people of Northampton bring along.

Pay your respects - but not to park

BY TOBY LOCK
tobylock@hpnorthants.co.uk

PARKING on Remembrance Sunday will be free for people to pay their respects to the town's heroes.

Northampton Borough Council will let everyone park their cars for free in the Mayorhold Shoppers Car Park on Sunday for the 2009 Remembrance Service and Parade.

The council's Street Cleansing Team will be washing the paving around All Saints Church today and Friday. The usual town centre street clean that is undertaken on a Sunday morning will also be enhanced, including the church gardens, to ensure the area is immaculate for the people in the parade and those who come to watch.

Cllr Trini Crane, who agreed to free parking on the day of the parade, said: "Remembrance Sunday is an occasion of great importance so giving veterans and the other people of Northampton a chance to pay their respects without having to pay to park their cars is the right thing to do.

"Staff from the borough council's street team will also be undertaking an extra special morning clean to make sure there is no unsightly litter or mess left over from the previous night.

"Many soldiers have been wounded or have sacrificed their lives and Remembrance Sunday is a day to think of those brave men and women. The 2009 Poppy Appeal is stressing the need to help the Afghan generation of the armed forces and their families so I hope people will come out and offer their support."

Remember those who gave their lives

FALLEN soldiers from Northamptonshire will be named in a personalised Remembrance Day service at the Park Avenue Methodist Church.

The service will take place this Sunday, November 8 from 10.30am.

Church spokesman Mike Lewis said: "As is usual at such services, all those who have given their lives for their country will be remembered, but there will also be an opportunity for people to include the names of relatives, loved ones or friends who died in conflict."

If you would like to have someone remembered during the service you are asked to provide details to Graham Clarke, either by e-mail on cljrudi@aol.com or by calling 01604 785847.

Charity urges people to be safe on Bonfire Night

STAY safe this Bonfire Night.

St John Ambulance is reminding people to take care during organised bonfire and fireworks displays, but are expecting busy weekends.

The most common injuries sustained on Guy Fawkes Night are burns.

Holding the affected area under running cold water for at least ten minutes may be the only treatment required, but any burns covering an area larger than the palm of the casualty's hand will require professional medical attention.

Large or deep burns should be cooled with water while an ambulance is being called.

Burns must not be treated with lotions, ointments or creams and adhesive dressings must never be applied to the affected area.

To avoid infection the wound can be covered with kitchen film, a clean plastic bag or clean non-fluffy material such as cloth.

Most large organised events will have first aiders on site, many of whom will be St John Ambulance volunteers.

For this reason, St John Ambulance is appealing to everyone having bonfires and fireworks at home to prepare for all eventualities.

Bernard Ingram, county executive officer for St John Ambulance Northamptonshire, said: "Bonfire Night can be so much fun for people of all ages but can so easily be spoiled by injuries caused through carelessness.

"We are asking people to ensure that they have a well stocked first aid kit at home so that if an accident does happen then they will be prepared, but obviously the best way is to stay safe and avoid accidents all together so everyone can enjoy themselves."

V V's back in town and hitting the right notes

How music career of Northampton girl is taking off

There's no place like home for singer V V Brown. Reporter LAWRENCE JOHN caught up with her.

SINGING sensation V V Brown can't wait to play her very first home town gig tomorrow night.

The 25-year-old from Northampton is counting down the hours until she appears at the Roadmender on Friday.

As part of her first headline solo tour in the UK, she asked to play her home town and can't wait to drink in the positive energy of the home crowd.

Speaking ahead of the nearly sell out gig, V V said: "I am absolutely psyched as it is my home town and in all the years I have been singing I have never ever performed in Northampton, not even in a pub."

"There are going to be a lot of people I will recognise in the crowd."

"There will be a really warm home energy as I grew up in Northampton and can relate to it and the surrounding area. I think it is going to be a mixture of excitement and nerves."

"I don't think I will be nervous at all as there will be so many friends there. I have asked to perform at the Roadmender for a long time."

Like many teenagers chasing their dreams, V V couldn't wait to get out of Northampton as she felt it couldn't help her in her career.

However, now she said: "You do not appreciate your home town when you are younger and I thought London was a better place. When I was 14-years-old it did not concern me but now I am older and I can't wait for the gig."

V V loved her time in Northampton and credits Overstone Park School, which was set up by her parents, as helping to nurture her musical ability. She said her childhood in Northampton was 'brilliant' and one which instantly conjured up images of the Cobblers and fields.

At the moment V V and her music is generating a lot of buzz in the USA. It is being used in shows like Desperate Housewives, CSI and The Hills. She could also see her music appear in the new Sex and the City film, having recently performed for the film's director. All the people who listened to her sing were dancing in the room and she is keeping her fingers crossed her music hits the right notes to be included in the film.

The only hitch getting to the USA was she didn't get her work visa and her tour to America is being pushed back to January. She has signed a record contract with Capitol Records and is sure the USA will be seeing more of her in the New Year.

Her debut album Travelling Like the Light, which was released in the UK in July, will be out in America in February 2010.

Budding entrepreneurs from the Northamptonshire area will be heading for a major franchise event at the MK Dons' Stadium MK on Saturday 14th November to see some of Britain's most innovative and exciting franchise & business opportunities.

40 franchises – all with licenses available for the towns in the Bucks, Beds & Northants area - have chosen to exhibit at the MK M1 Franchise Show and are hoping to impress the crowd of hopeful business tycoons.

Franchising is the half way house of running your own show – and considered a safer way to start your own business. If you buy into a franchise, you buy into a family, recognised brand, a support team and - most importantly – you buy into a ready made, step by step guide on how to set up that particular business. Someone has done the trailblazing for you, and you can follow in the slipstream.

The bad bit? The franchised company wants you to pay them for doing all that blazing of trails. The good bit? The High Street Banks will probably back you – even post credit crunch. The banks know that franchising has an 80% success rate – and some even have specialist franchise teams to provide funding. So now all visitors have to do is to choose a business they fancy running. How about running a mobile deli? Fitness clubs for girls? A new brand of estate agency? Sunglasses retailer? Car dent repairs? they are there plus 40 other business ideas on show – both full and part time opportunities.

The event runs on Saturday 14th November from 9.30am – 4.00pm at the stadium ballroom, entered via the stadium hotel main entrance. Free entry, free car parking and no tickets required. Full details, exhibitor list and a timetable of seminars can be found on the show website www.mkfranchiseshow.co.uk

Mums Mean Business – Free Franchise Seminar

Entrepreneurial mums are being invited to a free Saturday morning (14th November) talk at the MK M1 Franchise Show. Event organiser Louise Remfry explains that the thirst for self employment is as high as ever. "We have run the mums' seminars in nine other cities around the UK over the last two years and the thirst for flexible working and supplementary income seems to grow each time.

We have some great business ideas on show; franchises for kids parties, learning & education, fashion, dating, weight loss/fitness, home based marketing agency. And, best of all, each franchise offers a proven formula showing how other busy mums have succeeded juggling self employed work and family life".

The seminar takes place at 11.00am in the Ballroom at the stadiums hotel on Saturday 14th November. Kids are welcome!

Taking on a Franchise got me the job I wanted...

Kay and Julian visited a Franchise exhibition in Kent - and one year on they have made great progress with their chosen franchise of Sussex Farmhouse Meals.

Julian was a chef in London working many hours a week and decided to look for something different and work for himself. He and his wife Kay came to see Sussex Farmhouse Meals at the exhibition and have never looked back

Despite setting up business just as the words "global recession" began to occupy residence on the front pages, Julian is thoroughly enjoying his time.

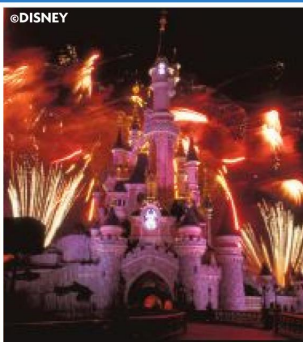

"It's the best decision I have ever made – the food Sussex Farmhouse Meals make is fantastic, the staff are really friendly and there is a real family ethos within the company."

He was given support on the marketing and how to best find local users for his service. And still receives ongoing help one year in.

"It's a great head start joining a franchise. It's your own business...and you have to work incredibly hard to find new customers – but all the niggly stuff: invoicing, adverts, training, billing, research has been done for you. It all means you manage to get up and running that much quicker and with much more confidence in your product's ability"

Visitors to the MK Franchise show can meet Sussex Farmhouse Meals on stand 33.

OVER 30 YEARS EXPERIENCE TO RELY ON

Acting life goes on for TV star Liz

ACTRESS Liz White who starred in the hit TV cop show Life on Mars is now featuring in Royal & Derngate's Young America season. Reporter LAWRENCE JOHN chatted with her.

THE question facing Liz White at the moment is not is there life on Mars but is there life after Life on Mars.

The answer without a shadow of a doubt is yes, but for fans of the BBC drama she will always be associated with the character of WPC Annie Cartwright.

Set in 1973, Life on Mars was the first time we met the memorable DCI Gene Hunt (Philip Glenister) and the time traveling Sam Tyler (John Simm).

The show captured people's imaginations and according to Liz it got people watching television again. She described getting the role of Annie as a peach of a job.

Liz said: "I always keep being asked what made it so successful and the answer to that is obvious.

"When I read the first few pages of the script I could not understand why John Simm was doing this very ordinary police drama.

"Then there was the car accident and then when you read it you get it straightaway.

"I just thought it was a peach of a job. I was surrounded by lovely guys and was the centre of attention.

"I loved the response from people when the first series finished. I loved doing it and the programme made people watch television."

As for her character, Liz thought she had been Sam's babysitter and she became part of his subconscious.

Now the actress is relishing appearing at Royal & Derngate in the Young America season.

She is starring as Ruth in Eugene O'Neill's Beyond the Horizon and Heavenly Critchfield in Tennessee Williams' Spring Storm.

Liz, like the rest of the actors, faces the challenge of switching from one play to the other so it keeps everyone on their toes. She said: "Having to do two different parts does test you. But there are common threads in the plays and in the minds of these two women and the issues they face. It has been a challenge working this way but it means you work twice as hard and it really keeps you focused.

"It is a lovely way of working as it feels you are picking up the play as if it was new. I always know which character I am playing. Doing it this way seems harder than you think it would be. This is a real opportunity, a dream job."

From an early age Liz wanted to be an actress and when she attended youth theatre to her it felt like home and she knew it was something she wanted to pursue. She did take some time away from her budding acting roots to do her A levels and to make sure this is what she wanted.

When she was sure she went to drama school and thanks to her hard work and dedication she has made her dream come true.

One of Liz's bug bears at the moment is the dearth of quality drama on television.

She would like to see less reality television shows and a return to shows in which people can get to know the characters.

■ Beyond the Horizon and Spring Storm can be seen as part of the Young America season until Saturday, November 14.

Tickets are on sale now priced from £27 to £11 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01604 624811 or at www.royalandderngate.co.uk

The countdown is on for the festive shows

BY JODIE PARSONS

THERE once was an ugly duckling - and this Christmas he'll be charming audiences as he takes to the stage in his very own musical.

The cast of Honk - The Ugly Duckling Musical have arrived in town to start rehearsals on the Royal & Derngate Christmas show.

Based on the

Hans Christian Andersen fairytale and from the writers of Mary Poppins, this funny story is full of non-stop puns, an uplifting musical score and larger than life characters.

Andrew Panton returns to Northampton to direct Honk following his previous success at Royal & Derngate as associate director of Follies in 2006.

Newcomer Adam Barlow takes the leading role of Ugly, the young duck who learns he is different from his siblings.

And the cast includes Andrew Dennis, Fiona Dunn, Mark McDonnell and West-End actress Joanne Redman, whose theatre credits include Les Misérables, Oliver, The Rocky Horror Show and Never Forget. She also features on the original cast recording of Honk.

Children aged between eight and 12 will be joining the cast to play the parts of the ducklings and froglets.

■ Honk takes to the Royal stage from Tuesday, December 1 to Sunday, January 3.

Tickets cost from £9 to £21 with concessions and group discounts available.

To book call 01604 624811 or visit www.royalandderngate.co.uk

Review
Spring Storm
 Royal & Derngate until November 14

STAGING a European premiere of a Tennessee Williams play is a real coup for Royal & Derngate.

Written when Williams was a university student Spring Storm is all about young dreams and big ideas.

It has many similar themes to Eugene O'Neill's Beyond the Horizon which it is running alongside as part of the theatre's Young America season.

And the actors, many who appear in both plays, are well cast - some even playing characters with parallel issues.

Even though there is this similar theme in both, Spring Storm is certainly the lighter of the two plays and Liz White (Life on Mars) gets her chance to shine as the lovably flawed Heavenly Critchfield who is pursued by two suitors. And once again playing opposites, Michael Malarkey and Michael Thomson are strong as her two potential lovers. And the supporting roles are great.

Little known gem is just heavenly

Liz White and Michael Malarkey

Spring Storm offers drama, melodrama, passion, comedy and tragedy in this little gem written by a man who went on to become one of the big names in American drama. Although there are serious moments there is something very warm and inviting about this play set in America's deep south.

There are also some comic moments which helps draw you into the characters even more. It is quite a long play and as with Beyond the Horizon there is a lot of dialogue but I felt this build up lets you get to know the characters and toys with the audience about where the plot is going. I think this makes some of the final scenes even more powerful.

The plays work well together and I can see why Laurie Sansom, the theatre's artistic director, chose to sit them together. And the theatre really has a lot to boast about getting the chance to stage these rarely performed works.

HIP prices slashed

THEAGENTS have slashed their HIP to less than a third of their normal price.

When asked about the move owner Rob Turton said: "Although with just less than two months of the year left, we firmly believe that there is more than enough time to sell your property and move before Christmas. "With this in mind we are encouraging more sellers to test the water with their toe and give the market a try."

"Lots of sellers are put off and fearful of the expense up front costs on a sale that might not happen."

"HIP prices can also vary from £300 - £400 depending upon the supplier, so it can be a large financial commitment."

theAgents have cut their price to £79 excluding VAT.

Rob said: "We feel very positive about the market right now, which is why we are prepared to make this investment on behalf of our sellers to demonstrate our confidence."

"Now is a good time to sell."

"However the offer is only available until the end of November."

Outgoing, persuasive, chatty, organized, fun, talkative, confident, positive, self motivated...

...these are the kinds of words used to describe our Advertising Sales team here at the Northampton Herald and Post (although other words are sometimes used!) If you're outgoing, persuasive and fancy working in a busy but fun media environment this may be the perfect role for you!

Office based Advertising Sales Advisor

The Northampton Herald and Post is part of Illiffe News and Media Ltd and is one of the UK's fastest growing regional newspapers. We're now looking to recruit a Sales Advisor to join our current busy team selling advertising solutions to local business. Sales experience is not necessary (although is always helpful), but a confident and persuasive personality coupled with excellent customer service and administration skills are very important.

This role is predominantly office based, and would involve talking to existing and new customers about their marketing and advertising needs, both on the telephone and face to face, therefore the ability to cold call is essential. Candidates need to have an excellent telephone manner and be happy working within small teams and working to deadlines.

We offer...

£12,000 - £15,000 per year basic (dependant on skills and experience)
Realistic and achievable bonus
25 days holiday per year
Regular training and career development
Contributory Pension and Healthcare after qualifying period

To apply please email your C.V. with covering letter to: lisa.battaglia@hpnorthants.co.uk

As a member of Illiffe News and Media we also publish weekly newspapers and websites across Herts, Beds, Bucks, Cambs, Essex and the Midlands.

It is the company's policy to employ the best qualified personnel and provide equal opportunity for the advancement of employees including promotion and training and not to discriminate against any person because of sex, race, pregnancy, disability, marital or family status, ages, sexual orientation, religious beliefs or trade union memberships.

We are looking for a first class trainee reporter to work across LSN Media's weekly newspaper titles.

The ideal candidate will be a self-motivated and enthusiastic team player, able to find the hard news stories while, at the same time, understanding the importance of community news.

You will also be expected to contribute to our websites, including provision of videos.

You will primarily be assigned to our Luton and Dunstable Express title, however could be called on to work on our other papers - the award winning Bedfordshire Post on Sunday, the Northampton Herald and Post, Wellingborough HP and Biggleswade Advertiser.

The position would be based at our central hub in Bedford.

Applicants will, preferably, need to have passed all their NCTJ pre-entry qualifications, including 100 wpm shorthand.

We offer

Senior Practitioner - £32,800 to £38,042 p.a. - Ref: 50016331
Social Worker - £25,472 to £33,661 p.a. - Ref: 50011391
Both roles: £2,000 market supplement. Relocation may be available

Milton Keynes has only a small number of young people subject to child protection plans and some of the lowest protected caseloads in the whole country. Because we don't overburden our Social Workers, you'll have the time and space to work successfully with individual children and families – there's more opportunity to prepare them for life without our support. And, as Milton Keynes and the surrounding area have so much to offer, you can also look forward to a better quality of life for yourself. (Key worker housing is available in the city, and Campbell Park is only 5 minutes from the office).

We are looking for Social Workers and Senior Practitioners. Both positions focus on helping to deliver the 'Every Child Matters' agenda – you will have an instrumental role in maintaining our current impressive service standards for Children in Need. In addition to managing a protected caseload, the Senior post also involves mentoring and supporting less experienced colleagues.

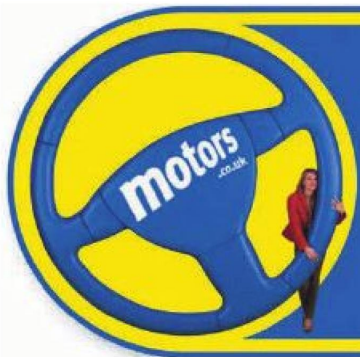

Both roles require a social work qualification and experience of working with children in a similar setting. Confident, inspirational and efficient, you'll bring a new dynamic to the team as you make the most of this rewarding career opportunity.

For an application form, email: jobs@milton-keynes.gov.uk or call us on 01908 253344 or 253462 (24 hour answerphone).

Newman & Reidy

Our name is your guarantee
A far more pleasant way to buy your next vehicle

Newman & Reidy investing in your safety

Newman & Reidy have just installed a brand new ATL MOT Bay at their premises on the main A4500 on the edge of Earls Barton, just a few minutes from Northampton and Wellingborough.

ATL I hear you ask. Well it stands for Automated Test Lane and is the latest word in technology to ensure your car receives a thorough yet impartial MOT when that time is due. The main difference is that these MOT Bays are designed to be operated by one person rather than relying on an assistant to help the NT (Nominated Tester) and the suspension, steering joints and bush's are now checked using hydraulic plates to ensure an accurate and consistent pressure is applied during the test thereby perhaps avoiding the over zealous use of a crow bar.

All the other checks for safety and compliance with VOSA's strict guidelines remain the same from checking the bodywork for undue corrosion to checking the exhaust emissions to ensure your pride and joy isn't damaging the environment.

Adam Newman, Director, said: "I am excited at this new development here at Newman & Reidy, a new ATL Bay is expensive to buy and install but it means we can now offer our customers a complete 'One Stop Shop'.

"We have found that people are not buying as many new cars and are keeping their cars for longer periods.

"Balanced against that saving, is the marginal cost of maintaining their existing vehicle but the main impact is that there are more cars on the road today that need an MOT and sometimes it's a struggle to find a local garage that can book you in. Our new ATL bay can cope with up to 10 MOT's per day giving us and our customers far greater flexibility."

Adam added: "Many of our customers have never had an MOT before and are naturally worried about the implications but as with everything our team do here at Newman & Reidy, we approach MOTs in the same open, professional and honest manner to ensure our customers have safe and reliable transport.

"Our customers can relax in our comfortable showroom and for those that are interested we have a viewing area in the workshop so you can watch the MOT being carried out."

Newman & Reidy also employ the latest technology to keep their many thousands of customers up-to-date with their vehicle's requirements.

Adam said: "We are now sending Text reminders two weeks before the MOT expires and another Text a week later so no-one falls foul of the law with a lapsed MOT, the last thing our customers need is points on their licence and invalid insurance! We are also working on e-mail reminders and hope to be able to offer that facility very soon."

A forward-thinking, professional and honest company that has its customers best interests at heart and prides itself on the level of service it provides, what more could you ask of your local garage? Visit Newman & Reidy soon and see for yourself what makes them so special.

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community.

The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live.

Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 61% of people responding to it.

No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

NORTHAMPTON HEATHENS 29
CORBY 27

INJURY-HIT Heathens enjoyed a morale-boosting victory over a young Corby side who have been rampant in their division of the Bombardier Wells Merit Tables.

They got off to a poor start when the Corby right wing crossed for two unconverted scores in the opening ten minutes.

However, The Artizan-based Heathens managed to regroup and their scrummage gradually became the dominant factor and allowed scrum half Gavin Cottrell to dart over for an unconverted score.

Corby added a penalty only for Heathens prop Rob Walker to reduce the deficit by crashing through for an unconverted try from a maul.

In a bizarre incident Corby should have increased their points tally but their player collided with the posts which allowed Heathens to clear. The hosts then took the lead for the first time when Cottrell dotted down for his second try which was converted by stand off Andy Jefferson.

Corby regained the advantage when they managed a converted try with the last move of the half making the score 17-20.

The second period saw Corby increase their lead with a converted try, however, the Racecourse side narrowed the gap to three points when centre Wes Schoeman dived over for a score that was again converted by Jefferson. With 14 minutes remaining young winger Ash Knowles sealed the win for Heathens when he crossed the whitewash for a well taken try on his debut.

The Heathens return to merit table action on Saturday when they go to Oundle.

TOWCESTRIANS 1ST 27
NORTHAMPTON BB08 1ST 26

TOWCESTRIANS pulled off a dramatic injury time win against their local rivals.

It was a keen encounter which, after early BB pressure, saw Tows lay siege in their rivals' 22. Conceding a string of penalties, BB were eventually driven over by the Tows pack, David Williams coming up with the ball.

With Tows looking comfortable, recycling the ball through several phases full back Matt Yuill dotted down for a second unconverted try.

BB refused to lay down, and the yellow carding of Tows' Joe Threlfall changed the game. Spreading the ball wide led to BB scoring and with Tows losing a second player from the back row, after Liam Wilkinson's leg injury, BB took the lead with a converted try just before half time.

Tows put themselves under pressure failing to find touch from penalties and kicking possession away allowing BBs' backs to run the ball.

Yuill then scored his second try following up a kick ahead from second row Sam Sterling's blindside break and Yuill converted, putting them 17-12 in front.

With Tows earlier scrum dominance ebbing away, BBs forwards took the driving maul route to score, the conversion seeing them back in the lead.

A penalty from Yuill took Tows to 20-19 with a few minutes to play, with BB now down to 13 men after yellow cards. But Tows failed to run down time, conceding possession to the excellent BB backs whose offloading in the tackle allowed their centre to score under the posts in injury time.

With the game looking to be lost Yuill thrust into the line released sub Matt Huck to score, Yuill's conversion sealing it in the eighth minute of injury time.

This week Towcestrians have a league game at Northampton Old Scouts RFC (2.15pm)

Towcestrians RFC 2nd XV conceded the game against Luton.

MOTOR RACING

TOWCESTER-based racing driver Michael Moyers had a mixed weekend of racing and emotions at this year's Walter Hayes Trophy at Silverstone.

The wet weather on Saturday worked wonders for Michael and his team as the conditions suited the car perfectly.

Qualifying fourth in his heat was a reward for all the hard work by the team so far, however as the track dried out for the race in the afternoon Michael slipped down the order to ninth but still made Sunday's semi-finals.

The team woke up to torrential rain on Sunday morning and Michael started 26th of 36 in his semi-final needing a top 18 finish to reach the Grand Final. Making a great start and following his teammate, three-time winner Joey Foster, Michael made some great moves through the field into 16th place, until four laps from the end when the engine stopped down the back straight.

Tigers get their teeth into the sloppy Saints

RUGBY UNION

LEICESTER TIGERS 29 (19)
NORTHAMPTON SAINTS 15 (12)

NORTHAMPTON Saints found themselves out muscled by Leicester Tigers as the home side's pack powered them to victory in the Saturday evening East Midlands derby at Welford Road.

Despite missing four of their forwards on international duty and Julian White being sidelined with injury, the Tigers traditionally strong pack provided the platform for Leicester to claim the local bragging rights.

To some extent Northampton were also architects of their own downfall, with two intercepted passes being returned for tries and a hideously lopsided penalty count of 13-5 against the Saints.

The visitors took the early initiative and four minutes in had Stephen Myler's ambitious drop goal attempt from over 40 metres out ruled out after referee Dave Pearson consulted the television match official.

But there was no doubt about Northampton's first try three minutes later. A long kick was fielded by Bruce Reihana and a chip forward from the New Zealander was then fumbled by Leicester scrum half James Grindal on halfway.

Chris Ashton was first to the loose ball and raced away down the wing, turning the defender inside out before passing to his left where Chris Day was in the right place at the right time to finish off the move. Myler made no mistake with the kick.

Back came Leicester and on 12 minutes they got on the scoreboard when Saints were penalised for joining the ruck from the side in their own 22, with Jeremy Staunton kicking the three points.

The Tigers' number ten then ensured it was just a point that separated the teams at the midway point of the half, landing a penalty from a similar distance. Then two minutes later some wayward passing from Northampton was punished by the hosts.

They took the lead when Myler tried to offload to no-one in particular near the Leicester line and Lucas Amorosino was put clear to sprint over 80 metres, evading a last gasp tackle from Paul Diggin, to score. Staunton added the extras for a six point cushion.

Myler pushed a 30 metres penalty wide, while the Tigers' fly half kept the scoreboard ticking over with a further kick in the final minute of the half. But right on the stroke of half time Northampton hit back.

Reihana evaded two tacklers, including fending off Amorosino, before passing to fellow winger Ashton. The former Wigan rugby league player then showed Leicester full back Scott Hamilton a clean pair of heels as he sped away to score in the corner.

The second half was very much forward dominated and the ferocity of the battle up front threatened to boil over at one point when a collapsed scrum in the Northampton 22 led to some handbags between the opposing packs.

A further penalty from Staunton was

FORMULA 1

DR Vijay Mallya has paid tribute to his staff at their Silverstone base after the team's best season ended in Abu Dhabi last weekend.

Force India secured ninth position in the F1 Constructors Championship at the inaugural Abu Dhabi Grand Prix.

The team from Silverstone, in only their second season, scored an impressive 13 points and a dramatic podium finish in a topsy-turvy year.

Despite showing early promise, both cars struggled to adapt to the Yas Marina circuit, which played host to the season finale.

Tonio Liuzzi and Adrian Sutil finished 15th and 17th respectively, enjoying close battles throughout the race with both Renaults and the Ferrari of former driver Giancarlo Fisichella.

Owner Dr Mallya was delighted with their season's performance and paid tribute to his staff back in Northamptonshire.

He said: "Of course points would have been a fitting end to the season, but sadly we could not achieve them today.

"Both drivers gave it absolutely everything until the final lap and I couldn't have asked for more.

"It's been an excellent season for Force India this year and I would like to thank the entire team, both at the track and at our bases in Silverstone and Brackley, for their outstanding commitment and skills that have led to this success.

"We have achieved our objectives and then some more and can only build on this over the winter into 2010."

Adrian Sutil said: "It has been a very good season, naturally with a lot of ups and downs, but we've gone massively forward from the beginning of the season to the end. I think we can be very proud of this progress."

The new season will begin in Bahrain in March 2010.

CYCLING

TEENAGE cyclist Hannah Barnes (pictured) is among a handful of talented athletes being tipped by Sport England to make their mark in the 2016 Olympics.

Hannah, 16, from Towcester, recently won two stages at the Youth Tour of Assen in Holland and finished second overall, only three seconds behind the winner.

She was picked as part of the '16 for 2016' scheme, run by SportsAid a charity which gives financial assurances to talented teenagers to help them pursue their sporting dreams.

Last August, Hannah shattered a British record dating back almost 20 years with her ride at the National 10-mile Time Trial Championships.

She is hoping to move on to be selected for the Olympic Development programme which has helped produce Olympic stars already and will no doubt produce many more.

Hannah said: "It's a real honour to be selected as one of SportsAid's 16 for 2016 athletes, especially out of so many talented athletes that are helped each year."

Matt Winston, Olympic Talent Coach at British Cycling, said: "Hannah Barnes has risen well over the past few years in the youth ranks, finding her feet at first and quickly becoming one of the most impressive young cyclists around."

the only score of the first 15 minutes after the restart. Myler replied with three points of his own five minutes later.

Lee Dickson was denied a try by the video ref just after the hour when replays showed he was dragged into touch close to the Leicester try line. Northampton kept hammering the try line but were unable to capitalise, with Paul Diggin also being forced out of play.

Anthony Allen made certain of the win as the match headed into the final five minutes, intercepting an outlandish pass from replacement Barry Everitt before going all the way to score under the posts and allowing Staunton a simple conversion.

WBL DIVISION ONE
NORTHAMPTON NEPTUNES 92
TILE HILL TROJANS 76

THE Northampton Neptunes saw off last year's league runners up and maintained their 100 percent record in the process.

They were given an early scare in the first quarter as the Trojans took a double digit lead.

However, Tyler Kathan helped the Neptunes fight back as he drove to the basket for consecutive scores. Mark Spatcher helped restore Neptunes' lead at the end of the quarter after hitting a pair of three pointers to give them a 25-17 advantage.

In the second the Neptunes stepped up their defence as they gave up just 16 points. But the Neptunes' fast break was beginning to function as Shafiq Omar and Sam Mennell picked up transition scores. Spatcher and Kathan kept the score ticking as the Neptunes began to stamp their authority on the game, and another three pointer on the half time buzzer from Spatcher saw them 50-39 in front

In the third the Neptunes' bench began to get into the game with Henry Uriem and Ben Knight both hitting around the basket as they extended their lead to 77-55.

The fourth quarter saw the Neptunes ease home 92-76.

Top scorers for the Neptunes were Spatcher who hit a game high of 29 points, American Kathan gave vital support with 27 points, the two were well supported by Omar who backed them up with 17 points.

The Neptunes are without a game this week.

COGENHOE won at Blackstone for the first time in six seasons.

A goalless first half saw young keeper George McClellan defy the home attack with a string of fine saves including a penalty stop from Richard Thompson after Adam Scotcher was fouled.

Danny Frid gave the visitors a 54th minute lead.

Alfie Taylor added a second for the Cooks two minutes past the hour.

Cogenhoe then went on to battle with league leaders Daventry Town on Tuesday night. Both sides left with a point after a 2-2 draw.

DIVISION ONE

IMPROVING Sibley and high riding Eynesbury produced a thrilling 4-4 scoreline at Fernie Fields.

Nick Worley put Sibley in front after 26 minutes, but a quick equaliser came from Barry Albane before Adam Boothby put Eynesbury in front in the dying seconds of the first half, firing home a low shot.

Craig Herd levelled but Jordan put the visitors ahead again. Worley squared and Phil Murphy put the home side 4-3 up.

Adam Robson salvaged a point for Eynesbury with a close range finish a minute into added time.

Minnows' boss is ready to pull off FA Cup upset

FOOTBALL PREVIEW

FA CUP FIRST ROUND

NORTHAMPTON TOWN V FLEETWOOD TOWN

MICKY Mellon became a rarity in January when he became a full time manager of a club two divisions below the Football League.

Such is the ambition of Fleetwood Town they have speculated to accumulate and want to be in the Blue Square Premier sooner rather than later.

They travel to Sixfields on Saturday looking to give Ian Sampson's side an uncomfortable afternoon as the Cobblers bid to ease their way through round one of the FA Cup.

The Blue Square North side have lost only three times this campaign in the league and disposed of Kidderminster, a division higher, in the previous round.

Boss Mellon said: "We've been doing our homework on Northampton. We had them watched on the Saturday, when they played at Morecambe, and I'll be speaking to Sammy McIlroy about them."

It could be a tricky afternoon for the Cobblers. Mellon knows his stuff and is what might be termed an old pro after spells with Blackpool, Tranmere Rovers and West Brom. He has a hardy mix of ex-league players in his ranks, all of whom will be relishing another shot at the big time.

One thing is for sure, Cobblers will have to up their game after last Saturday's 1-0 defeat at struggling Torquay.

Manager Sampson told the club's website: "Our passing game was not as good as it has been in recent weeks but we weathered the early storm and the fact that their keeper got man of the match says a lot.

"Late on we failed to deal with a long throw and I suppose it was in the script that the ball would fall for our former player Chris Hargreaves and so that proved.

"I thought we did okay defensively apart from that one long throw that we did not deal with.

"We created a few chances today but we were not clinical enough and their keeper made a handful of very good saves.

"Adebayo Akinfenwa was tiring a little bit and that is why he came off and I wanted some fresh legs high up the pitch in Gary Mulligan. It was pleasing to have Liam Davis involved and hopefully he will kick on now.

"We knew the unbeaten run would end at some stage, the important thing is how we respond. We have two cup games coming up and we need to try to get good results in those."

Starlet returns to Premier League

STOKE City have recalled winger Ben Marshall at the end of his three month loan spell at Sixfields, meaning the 18 year old will return to the Britannia Stadium. Marshall, who joined the Cobblers on loan at the start of the season, scored twice in 17 appearances for the club. "Stoke want Ben to go back to them and so he will return," said boss Ian Sampson.

"We are really grateful to Tony Pulis and Stoke for allowing us to borrow Ben.

"When he came to us on loan he had only just joined Stoke and I think the three months here will have done him good.

"Now Stoke want to have a closer look at him and so he will return to his parent club."

Cobblers' colts leave it late to break Rushden hearts

YOUTH

TWO goals from Alex Konstantinou – the second in extra time – saw Northampton Town through to the next round of the FA Youth Cup 2-1 at the expense of Rushden & Diamonds at Nene Park on Monday night.

Nabil Shariff had given the Diamonds a first half lead, before Konstantinou equalised on 62 minutes. Matt Evans missed a penalty for the home side three minutes later meaning the tie went to extra time and Konstantinou scored his second to seal the Cobblers passage into round two after 97 minutes.

"We were not at our best at all," said coach Sean Parr.

Diggin fired up for Ospreys tie

RUGBY UNION

ANGLO-Welsh rivalry should produce some fireworks tonight as Northampton Saints travel to Wales to take on the Ospreys.

This will be the Saints' first visit to the Liberty Stadium in Swansea and the first fixture between the clubs.

The two collide in the newly christened Anglo-Welsh Cup which is now called the LV= Cup.

Both teams will be depleted due to this weekend's internationals when Wales face New Zealand and England take on Australia.

Ospreys will be missing ten players who have joined up with Wales including James Hook and Shane Williams.

They will also be without Nikki Walker who is with Scotland and Tommy Bowe who is with Ireland.

Saints will be minus Dylan Hartley, Courtney Lawes and Shane Geraghty who are all with England.

Looking ahead to tonight's clash, Saints coach, Jim Mallinder said: "The season is all about big games and now we've got to turn our attention to the Anglo-Welsh.

"It is only a five-day turnaround so we have to see who we've got available and select a team from there.

"Unfortunately we've got a number of injuries or players unavailable, particularly in the front five, and therefore that limits our options.

"We know Ospreys are a good team.

"They've got quite a number out for international commitments, and so have we, and it will be an interesting game.

"It is an opportunity for some of the non-international players in the squad. We're looking forward to the trip."

One of the Saints players relishing the competition with relish is winger Paul Diggin (pictured).

He said: "It's not our bread and butter, it's not our main competition but we're taking it very seriously.

"We did very well in it last year, we got to the semi-finals and that's something we want to push hard on.

"We thought we played very well in the Ricoh Arena against Cardiff last year so it's a good competition for us.

"We went well in it last year, it's a good time to rest key squad players and make it a good opportunity.

"If you don't take your chance you can't argue that the boss hasn't given you a go.

"You know the Welsh, they play a very flamboyant style of rugby, they move it about a bit, they're tough and they run hard.

"Yes, they're going to be missing some key players but they're always dangerous when you go to Wales.

"It's a very passionate country about rugby and their home crowd will be behind them. They may be missing some key players but they'll be massively up for it.

"No Welsh team likes to look silly at home."

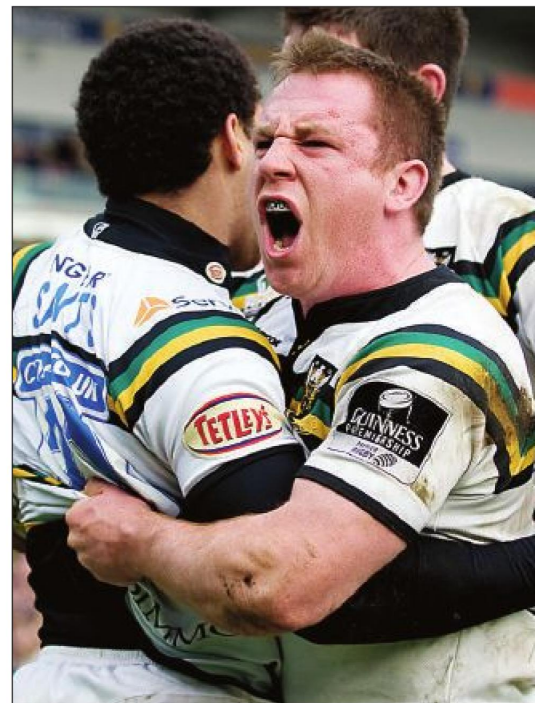

Saints will be aiming to bounce back from a 29-15 defeat in the Guinness Premiership against Leicester Tigers at Welford Road.

Mallinder was left feeling frustrated and disappointed his side left Leicester without anything after coming so close to securing a bonus point.

The Saints coach knew it was going to be tricky with players unavailable due to injury or discipline matters.

And so it proved as Tigers made life difficult for the Saints and despite a battle it was Leicester who won the war and the points.

Mallinder said: "I think the frustrating thing was that we knew we had a chance to win the game and I think if we had taken our opportunities and not given them opportunities we still could have done that.

"It was very disappointing. "There's a long way to go but it does hurt.

"When you come away you always want to win, if you don't you always want to pick up a bonus point.

"We made this mistake here last season.

"We played quite well and blew a bonus point in the last few minutes and we've gone and done the same, which is deeply frustrating."

NORTHAMPTON Saint Shane Geraghty starts in the centre for England on Saturday.

The Saints outside half/centre gets the nod in Martin Johnson's starting line up to face the Wallabies at Twickenham this weekend.

Johnno gives Geraghty the nod for Australia clash

Geraghty, who represented Ireland at under 16 level, will be looking to make an impact for England whom he won his first cap in 2007 against France.

The former London Irish player moved to the Saints in the summer and has made a big impact with the Franklin's Gardens outfit.

He won't be alone on Saturday as two of his Saints colleagues, hooker, Dylan Hartley and uncapped lock, Courtney Lawes start from the bench.
